"DOUBTLESS THE

Best Cough Medicine

IN THE WORLD."

[From one of the Oldest and Very best Houses in Boston.]

MESSRS. CUTLER BROS. & CO.

CINNATI, Ohio, March 15, 1872.

Please send us Zopa as soon as possible. Your Fine Large Vegetable Pulmonary Balsam. This is doubtless the best Cough Medicine in the World. Signed) ALLEN & CO.

P. S. These parties have sold this Balsam for over thirty years.

From one of Boston's most valuable citizens.

No. 5 Worcester St., Boston, March 14, 1873.

Messrs. CUTLER BROS. & CO.

In ordering another small lot of your Incomparable Vegetable Pulmonary Balsam, I should like to tell you what I know about it. It is far the best of any I have tried.

EXPERIENCE.

Since this Balsam first came to my notice, I have kept it constantly in the house, never allowing much to be out of it overnight. In all cases

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS

it has not failed in a single instance to relieve my lungs and give the desired relief, and I will say the same in regard to my wife, who

HAS BEEN SAVED

by it as I cannot but think. Here was a case of Consumption of the Lungs, and although attended by almost skillful physicians, she seemed to fail from month to month, so that we had almost despaired, when an old friend and neighbor persuaded her to try the Vegetable Pulmonary Balsam. The result was most gratifying. I cannot say

BELIEF WAS IMMEDIATE

and recovery rapid. She is now over 60 years old, and is active and well. Whenever she gets a severe cold, which happens once in a while, she takes thirty to sixty drops, according to the violence of the cough, which has always yielded in a day or two by taking the Balsam only on retiring at night. With it she is at once subdued, and a good night's sleep secured. I will mention another case, that of a young acquaintance, who

IRRITATION

BLED AT THE LUNGS

and coughed frightfully, had night sweats and was fearfully reduced. She left Boston for her country home, to die among her kindred. We supposed we did the same for a bottle of your Balsam, and soon had the satisfaction to hear that she was much better. She continued taking it for a while and got

ENTIRELY WELL.

and is living now, which fact is to be ascribed mainly to the use of the VEGETABLE PULMONARY BALSAM. Very truly yours,

JOHN CARTER.

As there are many imitations, be careful to get the genuine. Price in large bottles, which are much the cheapest, $1.50; small bottles, old style, 50 cents.

SWORN STATEMENT

OF A

BOSTON DRUGGIST

GENTLEMEN: I hereby certify that I have suffered for ten years, and for the last six years have been a terrible sufferer. I was rendered partially deaf, had buzzing in the head, pains across the temples, dizzy spells, weak and painful eyes, swollen and ulcerated tonsils, hard and painful cough, sore throat across the chest, and everything of a Consumptive nature. My head ached all the time. The matter would so rapidly gather in my head and throat that I could not keep them free. Frequently at night I would spring out of bed, it seemed to me at the point of suffocation. I would then have recourse to every means in my power to dislodge the mass from my throat and head before it could be able to sleep again. For a period of six years I was both severely incurred and so much inflamed that I could with difficulty swallow. I finally consulted an eminent surgeon in regard to an operation on them, but at his request peacefully desisted. The constant inflammation and ulceration in my throat caused by the polypous matter dropping down from my head had so irritated and inflamed my lungs that I coughed incessantly—a very hard cough. Meanwhile my system began to show the effects of this disease, so that I had flesh, grey pale, and showed every symptom of an early death by Consumption. When matters had reached this point, or about six months since, I began to use SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE FOR CATARRH. After using the first bottle I began to improve rapidly. The first dose served to clear my head so that I could breathe freely for the first time in several months. In fact the discharge ceased entirely in about the space of three days. By using three bottles I soon restored the lost sensation of smell, hearing, taste, etc., so that I now enjoy the blessings of health. I cough but little, and my system is rapidly recovering from the effects of this disease, so that I have every prospect of a speedy and complete recovery. I cannot say too much in favor of this remedy, and feel that it is due to the cause of humanity that I should make this statement.

CONSTITUTIONAL—Because it is taken internally, where its alterative and tonic properties impart healthy vitality to the entire system, and so cure Catarrh, keeps the pores open, the skin moist and free, the glands to do their duty, improves the appetite and digestion of the system, by its powerful tonic influence, to completely throw off the disease.

Each package contains a Douche for Catarrh and the Improved Medicating Tube. Price $1. For sale by Druggists everywhere. WEEKS & POTTER, Boston, General Agents.

AMONG THE INDIANS.

A MAINE MAN'S EXPERIENCE AMONG THE TRIBES OF DAKOTA AND MONTANA.

SOUTH ORRINGTON, Me., April 5, 1875.

To the Editor of the Whig and Courier:

Having lately returned from the West, after having spent several years in the State of Minnesota, and I some thirteen months among various tribes of Indians in Dakota and Montana Territories, I should like to give your readers a short sketch of two tribes of friendly Indians located at Fort Berthold, a Fort situated on the east side of the Missouri river, about a hundred and twenty-five miles below the mouth of the Yellowstone, called the Rees and Mandans. Allow me first to say a few words in regard to Minnesota, that she has a healthful and invigorating climate, and her soil is rich and productive. Her summers are greatly admired by all, but her winters are severe and blustering. Hardwood lands are scarce and far between, and fuel is hard to be obtained in many localities. In numerous towns and counties the sojourner finds no fences to obstruct his vision. The farmers depend greatly on their shepherd dogs for the protection of their crops.

Wheat is the principal crop raised in Minnesota. The average wages paid to hands in harvesting are three dollars per day, and two dollars through threshing time, and help is very hard to be obtained even at the above named prices. I have seen large fields of wheat lay in the field for several days before help could be obtained. Wages in general are high and the price of wheat very low. A large portion of the farmers throughout the State are deeply involved and hard times prevail there, as well as here. My advice to all, especially the farmer, who is well situated here, stand to go West, but be contented, and be well enough alone.

Dakota Territory is a cold and almost uninhabited region. It has scarcely any timber lands whatever, and is a country only fit for the Indian and the buffalo to live in. Montana as a farming country, I should say from what I saw of it, never would amount to a great deal, but her resources in minerals are boundless. We only entered the eastern part of the Territory, passed through the Bad Lands and then turned our course towards Fort Union. This section of country called the Bad Lands is a sight for the spectator to behold. As we beheld it in the distance, it looked exactly like the ruins of an ancient city. One commander, to use a rough expression, said all that he could compare it to was the "—— with the lights blown out." It was hills and bluffs as far as the eye could extend. These hills and bluffs are from five to five hundred feet high, and are of all sizes, shapes and colors. It looks to me if the country was originally level, and these hills and bluffs were made by rains and small streams of water, owing to changes in the river, and by volcanic eruptions throwing up in various places pillars of molten lava. Beds of coal are thrown from three to five feet thick could be seen cropping out of the sides of these bluffs, and almost everything in that section of country petrifies. It is a country rich in minerals but poor in spirit, producing neither rum, gin, brandy, nor Adam's ale in its purity, but instead thereof, alkalied water more or less strong, making one think to drink it, that his stomach ought to be lined with tar or some other waterproof substance to prevent it from eating through.

When we reached Fort Berthold, we were met by the Rees and Mandan Indians who gave us a very warm reception. Their yards, tents and cabins looked neat and clean, and from the appearance of things in general, I should say that they had made quite a preparation to receive us. The chiefs and leading warriors met our commander in council. The general sat in a large armchair, and the Indians formed a crescent line, sitting on the ground. There were three speeches made by these Indians; each one speaking in his turn standing up before the general. Their manner of speaking and gestures were much amusing to us. They spoke in their mother tongue, and it was interpreted to the general by a French interpreter. The scene was an interesting one; but being neither acquainted with the Indian or French languages, I was left as to what was said, completely in the dark. These Indians were ornamented and decorated from head to feet. These hair hung long on the neck, and was ornamented with paints and decorated with beads and gaudy feathers of various kinds. Their coats were braided from strips of deer and elk skin, of many colors, and such coats! decorated with ribbons and ornamented with beads, ribbons of different colors hanging from various parts of their coats, and beads of various colors worked into various figures. Their dresses were both fantastic and tasty. I never saw anything so tasty as their dresses, ribbons the odds and ends irregularly dangling, and beads of various colors artistically worked. The color of their dresses, the odd make, everything so incongruous in detail, and so harmonious as a whole, showed taste of the highest degree. The Rees and Mandans have always been friendly to the whites, as they are partially civilized. They are in general, intelligent and trusty. E. M. M.

The members of the First Baptist church in Portland, held a social reunion the other evening, and raised funds by voluntary subscriptions sufficient for the total extinguishment of the floating debt upon their church, amounting to $4,500. They now have a funded debt only of $21,000 upon which to meet the interest.

The health of Rev. S. D. Richardson of Hebron, is now restored, and he is able to resume his pastoral labors, with his usual energy and faithfulness.

STATE NEWS.

Androscoggin.

On the first of April, 1874, there were in Lewiston 6270 scholars between the ages of four and twenty-one, an increase of 663 since the year before. Of these, 2423 were between the ages of fifteen and twenty-one, leaving 3847 scholars under the age of fifteen years. There have been 3229 scholars in attendance in the public schools the past year. There are about 500 children (of school-going ages) under 16 years of age who have not been connected with Lewiston schools the past year. The tendency is to a marked increase in the proportion of these children who attend over those who do not attend school in Lewiston.

Lewiston has public property valued at $600,850. The city building is estimated at $200,000. The school houses of Lewiston are estimated at a value of $170,000—the most valuable is the grammar school house which is estimated

ABOUT IMPARTIALITY

A mistake on the part of a contemporary, doubtless due to inadvertence affords a text for a few remarks on the treatment of the Brooklyn case by the newspapers. Our good neighbor the Waterville Mail ascribes to us the following sentence: "We have sought to treat this Brooklyn trial with perfect impartiality, comparing upon it intimate so and deprecatory." Only we, as a matter of fact, the above expression has embodied in an article duly credited to the New York Tribune in our column and hence of course did not refer to the sentiment. But while we have not referred in our own course in precisely that language and make no claim to an impartiality which signifies indifference, we have endeavored to treat the case with all fairness in the presentation of the evidence on either side. In summary we have to refer to a series of articles in the Boston Morning Herald and since Detroit Gazette have devoted a large portion of our space to the testimony recently elicited. In this respect we think to have an article of the utmost impartiality.

In judging of the conduct of the parties in relation to the evil, we have charged to consider what is and what is not demanded by impartiality. In the first place it is plainly to be required that we should at the outset regard Mr. Beecher as innocent of the charge of adultery, because he has been acquitted of grave charges. On the contrary we think the spirit of the law is that a person is to be adjudged to be guilty and would be strange to do so to one who has on the record of a court of law been declared innocent. We think that the favorable verdict which is accorded to the nearest person in the dispute proof of error until charges. We have indeed assumed Mr. Beecher's innocence from the outset and have so treated it, letting that innocence until the contrary is proved and his accusers have fully the guilt which they have charged. Any such course would be equally wrong if we were to the contrary. We might also refer to the Mormon Mouton case, which only in the first press with their former and by a series of systematic with the testimony of Henry Ward Beecher, and the prosecution of the Brooklyn Golden Age, and the editor of the Golden Age, that

DOMESTIC NEWS.

TILTON'S CIVIL SUIT

The Attendance on Thursday.

BROOKLYN, April 8 — There was no rushing around the Brooklyn court building yesterday. Beecher was seen by a crowd of a thousand persons, but not by a crowd whom very few could get within sight of the court room. There will be many disappointed persons who have come from home will not take the trouble of making another application at the risk of another failure. The majority of the people are the same set who have regularly attended rain or shine from the first day. The wonder is where all the fresh men come from. Several of the detailed and constant attendants of the trial are pointed out as men living outside of Brooklyn and who travel every morning eight or ten miles to court. The number of ladies among the audience this morning was limited to about ten or twelve and of these there were no less than five in full widow s weeds and sitting in a row with their crape veils over their faces. The small trial audience have at last caught the intention of the spelling disciples, and in a good deal in the way of noise matches was done during the hour before the judge arrived.

The Examination of Mr Beecher Continued

The defendant came in a few minutes after 10 o clock carrying a very wide-brimmed, clerical-looking hat. He looked well and vigorous. The examination was resumed by Mr. Evarts — Witness said I did not think any interview took place anywhere between Fifteen and one about a visit of consultant on he had made to Dr Storrs after December 16 1872, or at any time I never had any conversation with Tilton about his visit to Storrs. During the interview between Bowen Tilton, Moulton and me, when Tilton referred to certain passages in the "True Story," saying that if I could stand that I could stand the rest. I did not say to him, "Theodore, you might as well tell the fact as to put it in that way." No, sir, nor to anybody. Sometime afterwards, I don't know when but in that season, I did speak to Moulton about the message. I can't give any detailed conversation. I only remember I told Tilton was a blackhead, or thought I was, when he thought I could stand that passage.

The First Intimation of the Employment of a Lawyer.

Moulton and I were talking about matters and he dropped incidentally that his lawyers had advised so and so. I started and said, Your lawyers! Yes, said he, I have been carrying this so long I won t carry it longer without the help of lawyers. He mentioned Tracy, who, he said, was a friend of mine. This was the first I heard of lawyers. I was not notified or consulted about it, on the contrary the universal understanding was there was to be nobody brought in. He did not tell me that he had been advised by his partner, Woodruff, to consult Tracy and that he did so and told Tracy that I had been guilty of adultery; this is all imaginary, sir, and must have been made when memory was dead and fancy very active.

Q.—Did Moulton tell you that Tracy replied if that is so the fact must be concealed at all hazards? — Absolutely false throughout and throughout, from beginning to end.

Q.—Did he tell you Tracy said this was a case in which lying was justifiable? — He never told me any such thing.

Q.—Did he tell you that he and Woodruff, his partner, had another conversation at which he again told Tracy the truth and told before him the contrition letter? — Nothing of the kind, or which could be made like it by distortion, was ever laid before me. It is wholly artificial and false as is his statement.

Mr Beach Ill—The Court Adjourns to Monday Next

NEW YORK, April 9 — The sixty sixth day of the great scandal trial, and the seventh of Mr. Beecher s direct testimony, opened with an increased attendance of ladies. The plaintiff and defendant and all the counsel came in simultaneously five minutes before 11 o'clock. There was the usual delay among the counsel in arranging their papers, Fillton studying his scrapbook and Beecher chatting with his family. He carried a little bouch of violets. He wore a heavy winter overcoat, with the collar turned up until he took off his overcoat and hat. Two memorandum books from the breast pocket and looked them over till the counsel was ready.

Mr Fullerton Asks an Adjournment

Mr Fullerton rose and said the plaintiff's side were at a disadvantage to-day owing to the absence of Mr Beach. During the week Mr Beach was very sick, labouring under a severe attack of neuralgic head ache so much so that he was unable to take part in the cases on Wednesday, and he had not joined them to-day. It was to be presumed that it was in consequence of sickness. He asked the court to allow a few minutes for consultation as to what course they should take. After a moments consultation he rose and said

Your Honor—Considering the importance of this case and the grave responsibility that rests upon the counsel it is proper that we should ask that this case be kept until Monday unless Mr Beach should come in soon. We are without the aid of our associate, General Porter, and so far as Judge Morris and myself are concerned we are unwilling to take the responsibility of conducting this case without his aid. As a matter of course the evidence of the witnesses of very great importance and the events so will his attention will doubtless be recalled will have a very great influence in the trial. We desire the aid that of Mr Beach before we proceed. Your Honor is probably aware that he is to present the case to the jury, and we would certainly be taken at a disadvantage if he not present to hear all the testimony and draw all the advantages which follow from the presence of the counsel. I have had no news as yet from him this morning. He may be here, but if not I will have to ask for an adjournment.

Remarks of Mr Evarts and Others

Judge Morris also added — I didn't know that he was yesterday suffering severely a disable to take to bed during the recess and was in distress all day. I hardly think there is any probability of his arrival.

Mr Evarts—No doubt the suggestions of my friends are quite suitable to the position Mr Beach unfortunately from a brought took cold the day before yesterday and intimated to me that he felt fears of some serious consequences from a feverish symptom though otherwise he is very strong, warm and well. The only thing in my own part was that we should not be under the evidence of his witness to-day but I think it proper to intimate there may arise some cases in which the absence of counsel and under that view the judge might be inclined to adjourn or at least to consider it might be more than only a little important and in the evidence was lost. It would be a great deal of reconsidering time.

When an Honor would be telegraphed to the South at Mrs Nelson s window of the Fifth Avenue Judge Fullerton knows I at the very hour he might think of it not fail to do so. But I do not think of nothing at this object from your Honor.

Judge Neilson—I think the strongest impressions myself that Mr Beach will not be here.

Ex-Judge Porter—He ought not to have been here yesterday, he would be here to-day if he could. And I never knew him to fail at the post of duty and sickness could absolute or distress.

Judge Neilson remarked that the kindly manner in which the proposal is received and fair and reasonable is very gratifying and will now adjourn the court until Monday morning at 11 o clock. The court then adjourned for the day.

A Disappointment to the Defense

This unexpected occurrence was a great disappointment to the defense and a surprise to well on disarmed and skillfully arranged outline design of spreading Beecher s evidence over the week days to close up every recess and the adjournment with a strong point and terminate the examination this afternoon and then take an adjournment until Mr Evarts returns from Washington. By this means the public at the jury would be able to consider the evidence in its entirety for some days before the cross-examination began. The audience, counsel and Beecher s family remained for ten minutes in court after the adjournment.

PENNSYLVANIA

The Fire in the Stockton Mine

HAZLETON, Pa, April 8—10 A M. The fire in the mine at Stockton is doing well and is likely to involve the company in very large loss and expected exhausted. Little hopes are now entertained of the safety of the men. Fourteen families are in great distress. Another report says the fire is not yet extinguished and the men are still in the mine.

A Building Party

Passed the night Mount Pleasant last night but did no damage. Pistols were fired and citizens called upon to turn down their lights. They proceeded on to Humboldt but did no damage. Not was attempted the rest.

The Arrival and Disposal of Troops

34 soldiers there on their arrival last night were received with jeers and derisive cheers from the crowd at the depot and on the streets. Several companies have been detailed to go to various points in the vicinity where their presence is considered necessary for the protection of life and property. More troops arrived to-day and there are now about 1,200 soldiers in Hazleton and vicinity. Trouble is reported in the Wyoming region and the indications are now that the strike will extend until it covers the whole anthracite region.

Reports of the Progress of the Strike from Various Localities

POTTSVILLE, April 9 — The rumor in circulation that the miners in Shenandoah and vicinity had resolved to quit their organization and resume work, upon investigation proves untrue. Information from Shamokin shows that all the colliers of that region will the exception of the Big Mountain collieries worked by a very small reduced force of men and all on strike this morning. This in India four large collieries owned by the Mineral Railroad and Mining Company, employing a large number of miners. It is believed that the miners organization has now fully succeeded in that region in inducing the men to join them in their fight against reduction. Much interest is manifested in the action of the miners at Scranton and Hyde Park to-day, as it is known that Messrs Welsh and Tiney of the Schuylkill Miners Society left for those points last week and the result of the vote is looked for as it will not be without its influence on the Schuylkill miners in continuing the strike here.

The Situation in Wilkesbarre

WILKESBARRE, April 9 — The situation in and around this city remains unchanged. All is quiet and orderly. It is expected that the men will resume work here next week. A Convention of delegates representing the Delaware and Hudson and Delaware Lackawanna and Western miners, was held in Providence yesterday for the discussion of the labor question. The meeting was strictly private but it is safe to suppose that it was held in the interest of the Miners National Association.

An Interview with the Governor, and his Despatch to the Sheriff of Luzerne County

HARRISBURG, April 9 — The Governor, after the interview accorded the deputation from Hazleton, sent the following despatch:

Wm. P. Kirkendall, Sheriff of Luzerne County, Wilkesbarre, Pa.—A committee composed of Richard Williams, of Audenried, James Bryson, Sylvester Enge, J. C. Fletcher and Chas Schuller, of Hazleton, Hugh McGarvey, of Beaver Meadow, and John Brady, of Harley, representing the citizens and miners have to-day visited me, and represented that the reports about the alleged disturbances in the vicinity of Hazleton are exaggerated and many of them false, and have declared that if the troops were withdrawn they and the other citizens and miners' associations whom they represent will obligate themselves to keep the peace; that if necessary they will pledge themselves to supply 500 citizens to aid you in maintaining order if disturbances occur, and they for the citizens, miners benevolent and other associations will enter into a solemn agreement that what is known as dead work at the mines will not be interfered with, and that parties willing to do such work at said mines will not be prevented from so doing. I therefore ask in the interests of law and order that you will at once proceed to Hazleton and make a thorough investigation of the alleged demonstration and the disposition of the miners to preserve order, and if you are satisfied that such a disposition exists, that the gentlemen who to day made the representation are able to keep the miners to the pledges they make for them, and that the citizens will fill you if there is any further turbulent demonstration, then after these guarantees are solemnly made in writing, you will please so inform me that the troops may be withdrawn.

(Signed) JOHN F HARTRANFT, Governor.

Compliance with the Request

Sheriff Kirkendall at once replied that he would proceed to Hazleton to-morrow in compliance with the Governor's request. It is hoped that the conference of the sheriff, citizens and miners may lead to some solution of the trouble in the Lurcine region. The Governor to-night directed the Adjutant General to proceed to Hazleton and be present at this conference.

Incendiarism

HAZLETON, April 9 — A stable belonging to Coxe Brothers coal operators was broken into last night and burned. Troops continue to arrive with every train.

Horrible Affair

PHILADELPHIA, April 8 — At 1 o clock last night Lewis R. Leys aged 25 years living at No 1837 Alton street (29th ward) cut his wife Tech throat, and drove the knife into her heart while she was in bed with her son aged 14 years having previously cut his own throat. The son fled and was followed a short distance by his father. The son called a policeman and when he reached the house the wife was found in bedclothes in Leys was lying, conscious in a dangerous condition. The husband and wife had been quarrelling during the evening and it is said Leys was jealous of her. She was 35 years old and very beautiful. Leys is a driver at Baldwin s Locomotive Works. At midnight he was still alive.

RHODE ISLAND

Judge Nominated

PROVIDENCE, April 9 — Hon. Thomas Durfee this afternoon nominated John R. Stearns of Lincoln, for addition and judge of the Supreme Court.

NEW YORK CITY

The Old Hulk

NEW YORK, April 9 — It is stated that there was a rush of visitors to Blackwell s Island yesterday, to see Tweed. The "Boss" declined to interview the public on the subject of the suit recently instituted against him. He seemed unperturbed by the action of the authorities regarding the suit that has been begun and others to follow. He was kept very quiet. Petitions bearing the Tammany Hall Tweed, Richard B Connolly, William Cole and others, informing the Board of Aldermen of the ownership, and said is in Paris and has changed much in looks. His hair and whiskers are nearly white. Connolly is in Italy and is unknown by his friends here. It is probable that will in a day or two a warrant will be granted for the arrest of some of the ring point men who have thought themselves safe. The property of Boss Tweed which has been seized by the sheriff under an attachment in the lawsuit claiming sixty seven thousand two which block of valuable real estate in this city.

A General Strike of Longshoremen

This morning, the longshoremen struck, becoming general Union No 1 having last evening adopted resolutions according to take part in the movement with other city Unions. The men are firmly and determined to hold out for their demands. The ship owners on the other hand are emphatically declare that they will never grant and not under any circumstances employ men who have struck.

The Escape of McCartney

It is evident from various official despatches received at Washington that McCartney the counterfeiter would not have escaped if he had been kept in the custody of the United States Marshal instead of a Treasury detective.

The Tribune celebrated its thirty fifth anniversary to-night by taking possession of its new building, printing a good night sheet with a picture and description of the building and giving the figures of its circulation, showing the average to be over fifty thousand daily.

FRANCE.

War Clouds and Rumors of Coming Strife

LONDON, April 9 — The Berlin Post (Ministerial journal) has a leading article saying that recent events unfortunately render it too probable that the present French Assembly, fearing there will be a Republican majority in the next Assembly, disposed to peace are unable to prevent the war of revenge, under MacMahon and the Orleans Princes with a strong party of Roy, that deputies will be placed in a position to profit by a restoration of a monarchy. War accordingly is coming on although the clouds gathering on the horizon may yet be dispersed. The Austrian conservatives are endeavoring to oust Andrassy from the cabinet, with the view of participating in coming events. The greater part of the upper classes in Italy are nearly to join any alliance against Germany could bring its anti Papal attitude to the Italian interests, yet it is by no means certain that France will be able to procure an Austro-Italian alliance. I know. Whatever fails war will probably be delayed, but things have reached a pass when the German people should be better acquainted with the details of the situation. It is time to awake from their slumber.

The Berlin correspondent of the London Times says this article is likely to have a strong effect and alarming rumors are rife. The same correspondent states that since the meeting of the Emperor Francis Joseph and King Victor Emanuel there is even less prospect than before of concerting measures with Austria and Italy in relation to the personal responsibility of the Pope.

CHERRY CHEEK

BY ANNA DOYTON AVERILL.

"Come, Cherry-check," called mamma
Leave snow-flakes, pink and cold!
The sun's are dimmed with mellow pink
The sun is going to bed
In our cozy supper room
I've drawn the curtains red
And the firelight leaps on the wall,
Come Cherry-check, also and

And slowly up the stairs
His tiny sled he drew
The whole round heavens were soft and calm
With not a cloud in view
And stars on the edge of the world
One little silver spark
Campbell alone in a great wide place
And waited for the dark

And he heard in the frosty air
Of the dying winter day
His father's coming, and the bells chime
A holiday
A happy little boy —
And something made his tiny
Dear old world a beautiful world to you we made
I am glad I was good to-day

—St. Nicholas for April
